
Most important references to search specific economic data

Consortium of Swiss Academic Libraries

The universities of applied sciences are subscribed to approximately 60 specialized research databases in various fields through the Consortium of Swiss Academic Libraries. All students and employees of the universities of applied sciences have free access to these databases on the university campus.

Access from campus: <http://www.htwchur.ch/bibliothek> > Fachdatenbanken

Access from home: <http://ezproxy.fh-htwchur.ch>

(Login with Nickname/ Password from HTW Chur NOT library login)

Enterprise information in general

Basic data about Swiss Enterprises:	http://www.zefix.admin.ch/
Schweizerisches Handelsregister:	https://www.shab.ch/
Creditreform Schweiz:	via Consortium
Publicus (Jahrbuch des öffentlichen Lebens):	via Consortium
Orell Füssli Teledata:	Access with costs

Statistical information

Swiss Federal Statistic Office:	http://www.bfs.admin.ch/
Statistic Offices of the Cantons:	depending on canton
Trade and business associations:	depending on association

News information

Press, News Stories, News, News services, Articles in news papers Zeitungsartikel, Management Newsletters, Press releases	LexisNexis, Factiva (via Consortium)
---	--------------------------------------

Subject databases

Business Administration and Economics

ABI/Inform

This database offers access to more than 2,000 journals and magazines in business studies and economics. The topics covered by ABI/INFORM include: advertising, marketing, human resources, finance, etc. Most articles are available in full-text. This quality database also allows you to investigate firm-specific data on more than 60,000 companies.

Business Source Premier and EconLit

EBSCOhost offers access to several databases, including the renowned business and economics databases: Business Source Premier (BSP) and EconLit. BSP provides full text for more than 8,800 serials, including full text for more than 1,100 peer-reviewed business publications.

Factiva

Factiva allows you access to thousands of newspapers and magazines published throughout the world. Its information pool comprises around 8000 different sources. This huge database also offers news briefings from Reuters and newswire information from Dow Jones.

LexisNexis

LexisNexis is an information vendor since 1973. The information offered comprises a broad scope: Press-, company- and financial information, facts about people in business, politics and current events, economic analyses, country reports and legal information. The full-text of several thousand journals, magazines and newspapers, updated daily is available. Market research reports are not included in our subscription.

Web of Science

Web of Science comprises various databases. Among them you will find the very large "Social Sciences Citation Index" with helpful search options (citation search, search for related articles, etc.). The SSCI's searchable holdings go back to 1956 articles. Other important databases include the "Science Citation Index" and the "Arts & Humanities Citation Index".

WISO Wirtschaftswissenschaften

This German-language database contains more than 4 million references with abstracts to publications published by leading German economic research institutes, and access to full-text articles from more than 340 journals (mainly in German).

Publishing Houses: Full text available!

These publishing companies offer you access to a lot of full texts:

Elsevier and Science Direct

ELSEVIER

As a member of the Swiss Consortium of Academic Libraries, we are able to offer you access to the collection of electronic journals published by Elsevier. This collection amounts to over 1,800 journals including a considerable number of titles that specialize in economics and business administration. Not all E-journals have extensive archives of older material. Our license covers full-text versions of publications after 1995.

Emerald

Emerald contains over 38,000 articles (full-text) in over 170 management journals covering strategy, organization, leadership, marketing, human resources and information management.

SpringerLink

SpringerLink provides access to more than 400 E-journals of the Springer publishing house in Heidelberg. All articles are available in full-text. Our subscription includes full-text for all journal articles published after 1997.

Taylor & Francis

Taylor & Francis consists of two collections: Social Science, Humanity (SSH) Library and Science, Technical and Medical (STM) library. We have a subscription for the SSH library - it comprises more than 750 journals. Access to the full-text of the articles is provided from 1997 onwards.
