Erasmus

I decided to do an exchange semester abroad because of a number of reasons. Firstly because I have a personal interest with traveling and going to other countries. I like to be in new and interesting places. Secondly I thought it would give me a rememberable experience that would help me mature and improve on social skills.

What really impressed me about switzerland was its natural beauty and its historic and well preserved buildings. I really enjoyed the people as well, there are a lot of friendly people on the streets who say hello and of others hospitality. I was also impressed by the public transport.

I had a lot of great experiences on my exchange semester, I had a wide variety to tell my friends and family when I got back home. For example I sledged down the Rothorn, I worked on a Swiss T.V. Programme, I went skiing, I ate on the riverside in Lutzern. I went to Heides house, and partied in Zurich.

Now I am back at my home university I can profit from the knowledge of how another country works when making films and what is their approach to working in general. I believe I have gained further skills in communication with foreign language people. I am able to speak a basic amount of German language. Also I can state to future employers that I have lived and studied in another country before.

The support from HTW Chur was great the teachers were really helpful, and so were the other members of staff. My home university could have provided me with support, however they were unavailable to.

There is not a doubt that I would do another Erasmus exchange again. I would wish to stay at the HTW till the end of the year, however as I went on my final year I had to return after one semester.

I would recommend my colleges to do a exchange semester, because it was an amazing experience and I will not forget it. I met some great people who I can call my friends and will be seeing again in the future. I have gain a vast amount from the trip. There are no downsides to it.
