

My name is Lara. I come from the Universidad Europea de Madrid. I spent two semesters in HTW Chur studying my third degree year of Tourism.

Tourism sector is really linked with mobility. For this reason I decided to move to Switzerland to study. I think that it is really interesting to get to know some new cultures and places for the own personal development.

I chose Switzerland because of its geographic position in Europe and also because of its different way of thinking within the continent. The thing I like most here is the possibility of practicing winter sports. Ski areas are huge and amazing, so I spent most of my weekends around the Gräubünden canton skiing everywhere.

My impression of the Swiss culture is pretty good, I like the society, people is very trustful and I feel really safe everywhere. This is also reflecting in the way of work of the people.

It was also very interesting for me the fact that some of the subjects here I could not have taken them in my home university. Most of the subjects are very useful for my academic knowledge.

I felt absolutely supported by HTW during all the year. The International department took really good care of us since we arrived. Also the student office helped us so much with all the problems we had during this year. I could not say anything bad about their job with us.

After 10 months here I am sure that I would come again. I am glad about my decision to come and about all I experienced in Switzerland.
